Cowboy Music and Writing Workshop at the Kearney Public Library

Two troubadours are riding into Kearney for two days of contemporary cowboy music at the Kearney Public Library. On Tuesday, September 6, 2016 western music songwriters Kerry Grombacher and Aspen Black will perform a free concert at 7:00 p.m. On Wednesday, September 7, at 12:00 noon, they will lead a writing workshop to “Jump Start Your Creativity”.

Kerry Grombacher’s and Aspen Black’s songs draw vivid portraits and tell fascinating stories that are set in the Western landscape, where they’ve worked and traveled with cowboys and Indians, ranchers and rodeo riders, outfitters and chuckwagon cooks, and lawmen and lawbreakers.

“It’s a real treat to bring our cowboy songs to the Kearney Public Library”, said songwriter Kerry Grombacher recently, “And I’m looking forward to meeting with the Writers’ Group again. The songs that Aspen and I write reflect the tremendous variety of experience in the regions where we’ve worked and traveled, and it’s going to be fun to share them. I’ve enjoyed performing at the Kearney Public Library for several years, and I am very happy to introduce my talented friend, Aspen Black, to the community.”

Join Kerry and Aspen, Wednesday, September 7 for “Jump Start Your Creativity!” writing workshop. Are you a writer, or a teacher or student – of poetry, songs, fiction or non-fiction – who wants to sharpen your ability to describe scenes and to tell stories?
